We favor home rule for and early admission to statehood of the territories of New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma.—National Republican Platform.

"He voted for Bryan in 1896" is becoming quite a common form of introductory for the speakers at the Republican meetings in Kansas this year.

PROSPERITY has shared its blessings with the beef raiser of the West and brought to him advanced prices for his beef. In 1896, during Democracy and Depression, beef on hoof per 100 pounds sold for $3.25; in 1899, under McKinley and Prosperity, beef on hoof per 100 pounds sold for $4.65. McKinley good-times has reached all classes of trade.

HALF of the last British loan was taken by people in the United States, so that in place of this country having to work to pay interest to British holders of United States bonds, the process is reversed and the Britisher is now compelled to send money to this coun-

Call for a Republican Territorial Convention.

A delegate convention of the Republican voters of the Territory of New Mexico is hereby called to meet in the city of Santa Fe at ten o'clock in the morning on Wednesday, the third of October, 1900, for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate from New Mexico to the 37th Congress, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the said convention.

The Republican electors of this territory and all those who believe in the principles of the Republican party and in its policies as announced in the National Republican platform adopted by the Republican National Convention held in the City of Philadelphia, June 19, 1900, who believe in and endorse statehood, for the Territory of New Mexico and favor an honest, fair and just administration of public affairs, in this territory, are respectfully and cordially asked to unite under this call to take part in the selection of delegates to the Territorial Convention.

Alternates will not be recognized.
Proxies will only be recognized if held by citizens of the same county from which delegates giving proxies were elected.

County conventions must be held on or before Saturday, September 29, 1900.

County committees will take proper action and call county conventions at such times and places as they may deem best before or on that date.

The chairmen and secretaries of the county conventions are earnestly requested to forward true notice of the proceedings of such names of the delegates elected to the Republican county convention to the secretary of this committee by the next mail after the call of such conventions.

Where there are no regularly organized county committees the members of this committee are authorized and directed to perform the duties of the county committee and act accordingly.

JOHN S. CLARK,
Chairman of the Republican Territorial Central Committee.
MAX FROST, Secretary.

A few years ago the South did practically no manufacturing. It now has over $1,000,000,000—one billion dollars—invested in factories, paying over $350,- 000,000 in wages and producing between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,- 000,000 worth of products every year. If the gold standard and the protective tariff are the great evils that the South so steadily denounces, how has the South been enabled to make this wonderful progress, the great bulk of which has been under McKin-ley's administration?

MR. BRYAN did not close his predicting department when he received the election returns of 1896. After his defeat he issued an address in which he said: "Before the year 1900 arrives the evil effects of a gold standard will be even more evident than they are now, and the people, then ready to demand an American financial policy for the American people, will join with us in the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1." Has anybody noticed a great rush at the realization entrance of this prediction?

ber next (Sept. 12, 1900) at 4 o'clock p. m., to vote upon a proposed increase of the capital stock from twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) to a sum not to exceed thirty-six thousand eight hundred dollars ($36,800).

NEW METHODIST
BISHOPS.
One Was Editor of The Western Christian Advocate, the Other an Author of Religious Books.
BY G. J. BOWDEN.

At the recent Methodist general conference two new bishops were elected.
They are David H. Moore and John W.
Hamilton. Both have long been prominent in the Methodist church and are widely known.

Bishop Moore has been for many years editor of The Western Christian Advocate, published at Cincinnati, and this has given him a wide circle of acquaintances. He is a typical representative of the Methodist clergy, having had a large and varied experience, beginning as circuit rider and filling a variety of posts.

Bishop Moore was born in 1838 on a farm near Athens, O., that little town which has furnished three other bishops to the Methodist church. His father was a wealthy and prominent man in the community. Before the war Athens was one of the stations on the underground railroad, and it fell to the part of young David to carry the horses in the early morning so that no trace might be left at daybreak of the hard drive they had had during the night. When war was declared, he was quick to volunteer, going to the front in command of a volunteer company raised near Marietta, O.

About the first thing he did was to get captured at Harpers Ferry through the fault, it is said, of a superior officer. Soon after the young captain was exchanged and went home to Ohio.
There he assisted in the formation of a new regiment, of which he was made lieutenant colonel. The regiment took part in the Atlanta campaign, in the course of which the colonel of the regiment was promoted, leaving the present Bishop Moore to succeed to the command.

Previous to becoming a soldier, however, he had been graduated from Ohio

BISHOPS MOORE AND HAMILTON.

university and entered the ministry.
After the fall of Atlanta he renewed his ministerial labors, serving prominent churches in the Ohio and Cincinnati conferences. In 1875 he was elected president of the Wesleyan College for Women at Cincinnati. Five years later he resigned to engage in pioneer educational work of the Methodist church in the west, becoming president of the Colorado seminary and chancellor of the University of Denver. While in Denver he also served Methodist churches as preacher.

In 1884 Dr. Moore was elected editor of The Western Christian Advocate, published at Cincinnati, which post he has since occupied. He is considered one of the strongest preachers in the church and is in much demand to speak at the dedication of new churches.

Bishop Elect John W. Hamilton, secretary of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Educational society, was one of the first candidates mentioned for election, and before the conference met his name was most talked of. Dr.
Hamilton's home is in New York, where the offices of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Educational society are.

Dr. Hamilton was born in Weston, Va., on March 3, 1845. He was graduated from Mount Union college in 1865 and from Boston university in 1871.
He commenced to preach in Pittsburg conference in 1869. In 1868 he was transferred to the New England conference and was assigned to Malden. He became prominent a few years later as the founder of the People's church in Boston, which he served for nine years. He was elected secretary of the Freedmen's Aid society by the conference of 1892. He was supported in the election for bishop by all the colored delegates, who, it is said, were anxious to have M. C. B. Mason, their representative, in the office of secretary of the Freedmen's Aid society.

Dr. Hamilton has had much experience in parliamentary bodies, having been a member of five general conferences, and is in other ways considered well qualified for the position of bishop, to which the conference has elected him.

Perhaps he is most generally known among Methodists as a writer. He is the author of "Jesse Lee and the Old Elm," "People's Church Pulpit," "Lives of the Methodist Church Bishops" and "Fraternal Greetings: The Church in and England." He has received the honorary degree of A. M.
Wesleyan university and that of from Baker university, Kansas.

Charles Reade's Motto. propose never to guess what I know." This motto was rigidly adhered to by the author, whose love curacy was so great that he sparpains to verify every statement referred to in any of his novel. He was an indefatigable collector of newspaper clippings from all nations, which he carefully classed and arranged in many scrapbooks.

Reports of many institutions, police agencies, accounts of trials and accidents and manifold descriptions of all sorts were filed away for future reference. The contents of these scrapbooks were indexed with great care, and from them Charles Reade derived great satisfaction. If ever any of his statements were questioned or his facts denied, he would turn triumphantly to his classified scrapbooks and refute the objections with some positive proof contained therein.—Miss Tinknor in Truth.

The Banana.
The banana is said to have 34 times the nutritive value of the potato and 25 times that of bread. In the West Indies the natives cut the fruit into strips called "pega," dry these in the sun and grind them into flour, out of which many excellent dishes are made.
No cheaper food grows in the tropics.
The plant begins bearing 14 months after being planted. It requires no cultivation and produces harvests uninterruptedly for 11 years. A few feet of ground nourishes a plant, and the space of a dooryard will grow plants enough to maintain a large family.

What most people want is something mild and gentle, when in need of a physic. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets fill the bill to a dot. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect.
